The Republican congressional convention assembled here Tuesday according to program, and went through the exercises of nominating a man for congress. Capt. Aug was named for temporary chairman and R. H. Wilson for temporary secretary. The usual committees were appointed and retired. While awaiting their report the convention adjourned for thirty minutes. The committee on permanent organization and order of business reported for permanent chairman, J. L. Minnis, of Carroll; for permanent secretary, W. B. Rodgers, of Trenton, and D. B. Ormiston, of Linn, assistant secretary. The report was adopted. The committee on credentials reported no contests and gave number of delegates present. This was changed by the convention so as to permit sitting delegates to cast entire vote of the county. After the reports were disposed of and some other matter determined, ed, nominations for candidates were called. A delegate from Carroll placed T. J. Kemp, of Chillicothe, in nomination. Senator Peery placed Judge A. H. Burkholder, of Trenton, before the convention. Senator Peery was placed in nomination but declined the honor. W. B. Stewart, of Moberly, was placed in nomination. First roll call resulted:

Burkholder.....26 1-2
Kemp.....19
Peery.....6 1-2
Stewart.....6
Total vote.....58
SECOND BALLOT.
Burkholder.....29 2-5
Kemp.....27 3-5
Peery.....1
THIRD BALLOT.
Burkholder.....37 2-5
Kemp.....20 3-5
On motion the nomination of Burkholder was made unanimous. The committee on resolutions reported and their report was adopted. This closed the work of the convention proper, but a night session was held for the purpose of having Kemp speak. Democrats turned out and gave him a fair audience, but his speech was said, by those who heard it, not to be up to his usual standard. The delegates in attendance were a fine looking body of men and very enthusiastic. Their only hope was to boost Warner for governor, as they know this congressional district is beyond their reach.
